Update on Cyclotron Facility

On 20 June 2014, we notified shareholders that our cyclotron facility located at Macquarie University Hospital suffered substantial water damage in the course of extinguishing a fire on the floor above our facility.

I am pleased to announce that our insurer QBE has accepted liability for the costs that will be incurred in fully reinstating our clean rooms and laboratory facilities. A project group has been established and is currently working on the process involved in carrying out the works.

It is expected that the reinstatement will require several months to complete.
